

Media Title: Business Today
Date: July 2013
Section: Property Today
Page No.: 44
Headline: YTL Land's Project Wins Real Estate "Oscars"

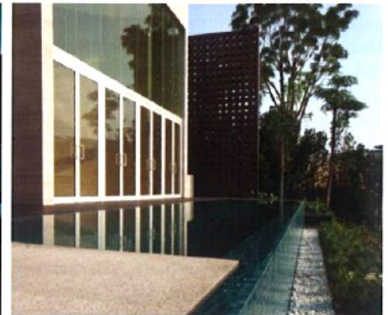

Property TODAY

YTL LAND'S PROJECT WINS REAL ESTATE "OSCARs"

YTL Land's maiden luxury development in Sentosa Cove of Singapore, Sandy Island, takes home the prestigious title as Gold Winner of the FIABCI Prix d'Excellence Awards in the Residential (Low Rise) Category.

Often referred to as the 'Oscars of the Real Estate industry', the FIABCI Prix d'Excellence Awards are judged by a global panel of real estate professionals and experts, recognising projects that demonstrate excellence in all aspects of real estate development. The award ceremony announcing the win was held recently at the

TOWARDS
SUSTAINABLE CITIES

64th FIABCI World Congress in Taichung, Taiwan.

Tan Sri (Dr) Francis Yeoh, Managing Director of YTL Corporation Berhad says: "We are very pleased that our first foray into Singapore has been given the highest honour by the international real estate community. This award is an endorsement of our long term commitment to creating exquisite homes of the highest stature and raising the bar in design excellence. In particular, our introduction of Sandy Island's bold concept and contemporary modern style unprecedented in the Asian market have been well received, encouraging us to strive for greater heights in future projects in Malaysia, Singapore, Niseko in Hokkaido, Japan and Koh Samui in Thailand." 